LEN STEPS UP ANOTHER RUNG

Len Findlay, Blyth Street, Altona, was appointed to one of four new shift supervisors' positions at Petroleum-Refineries of Altona this month.

Len, who was born in Altona and has lived in the area all his life, except for his service in the RAAF (from 1942 to 1946 as a radar operator), joined PRA in 1955.

He rose steadily through various process operator positions to head operator in 1968. This new appointment entails supervision of a large area of the refinery.

The Findlay family is quite notable in the district. Mrs. Findlay is an active member of the Altona Tennis Club which Len has chaired as president for the past three years, he has served a total of 12 years in this position.

Trevor, the eldest child is in his second year of an arts degree course at Melbourne University, and is majoring in political science.

Gregory, at 18, is an up-and-coming tennis star who, in addition to playing with the Altona Tennis Club, plays LTAV pennant with Grace Park, and is captain of the triangular tournaments played against New South Wales and South Australia.

Julie, the youngest, is a student in fifth form at Altona High School and is well known for her singing ability.

With another lass, Janine, Julie has made many television appearances, including "Brian's Juniors" on HSV-7, both junior and senior "New Faces" programmes on GTV-9 in which they won their heats also on Channel 0, and have appeared with Johnny Farnham on ABC television.

Julie inherits her singing talent from her mother who, as a junior, appeared in concert parties entertaining troops during the war.

ALTONA'S BUDDING PETER THOMSON

VGA CHAMPS WON
BY DISTRICT GOLFER

Nineteen-year-old boys' championships run by the VGA at Keysborough. Mr. Cahill said he remembered that young Mike went around the course in either par or one under.

He scored a magnificent 4-3 win over Ken Kilburn in the final match at Yarra Yarra on Sunday.

At the same time he caused a controversy between golfing authorities and selectors who omitted to pick him for the Victorian interstate team, even as a ninth man.

His omission has caused a certain amount of argument as his form this year has been better than other players named for the team.

He is currently State Junior amateur golf champion, Victorian open amateur golf champion, Koorngal Champion and runner-up in the Yarra Yarra gold club championship.

This young golfer, who has been described by experts as "extremely promising" is at present engaged in a business studies course at the Footscray Institute of Technology.

Mike Cahill's golfing career began at the age of 10 at Koorngal golf club where he caddied for his father Frank.

Frank Cahill told The Star that Mike first began playing golf at the age of 11 but showed little promise until the age of 14 when he won the school-

Further glimpses of his brilliance came at the age of 17 when he won the Koorngal club championship.

Frank Cahill told the Star that his son was naturally disappointed in being omitted from the interstate team but did not take the opportunity to berate the selectors.

He added that Mike was going through a dull period earlier in the year and this could have influenced their decision.

Mr. Cahill said his son did not really find form until doing well in the junior championships.

He said while Mike was disappointed, he realised that at the age of 19 he still had plenty of time to make the interstate team.

It's not likely that Mike Cahill will turn professional in the near future.

Frank Cahill said his son's immediate aim was to play good golf and complete his accountancy studies.

He said that if Mike was convinced in his own mind of his ability he would turn professional but not before.

Mr. Cahill said: "It's one thing to show promise and another thing to fulfil it."

Choosing the right career

The young person of today has a bewildering variety of jobs from which to choose.

Even if he makes a choice, it is not always possible for him to get the job he wants.

For a start, he must have the right qualifications.

This means he has to plan ahead by studying the correct subjects.

It's wise to find out all about your future job before you commit yourself.

Quite often it turns out to be quite different from the way you imagined it.

There are other problems too. Some jobs are too competitive.

Their futures

But luckily, no matter what your aptitude is, you can be happy in more than one kind of job, provided you have an interest in them.

Students of Altona North Technical School had an opportunity to discuss their career problems in the school's assembly hall last Wednesday night.

There were 44 experienced people from all the trades and professions to give advice.

Mr. Frederick W. Cropley, from the Science and Technology Bureau, gave out career leaflets to 30 students.

He said the bureau is an information centre for details on many careers in engineering and science. Information may be had simply for the asking.

The bureau has reminded students that there are 45 or 50 working years ahead and if an extra year of preparation will make all the difference between satisfaction and frustration, it is well worthwhile to go back to school.

Popular

Most popular choices were careers in electronics and marine engineering.

The bureau recommends that students take subjects which open the doors to every career in engineering, science or technology.

These are:

Form four — English, mathematics A, mathematics B, Science and any other subject desired.

Form five: English, mathematics 1, mathematics 2, physics, chemistry and any other subject.

Form six: English expression, pure mathematics, applied mathematics, physics and chemistry.

For accurate information on any career in engineering or science you can apply to the director, on 63 3093. All the services of the bureau are free.

Mr. Francis Xavier

Cronin, of the Apprenticeship Commission gave advice to boys and girls who were considering leaving school to become an apprentice in a trade.

Not just job

In the booklet, A Career is not just a Job, apprenticeship is defined as a period of time during which the apprentice is under contract with an employer to learn all phases of a trade.

It is a form of training on the job and combines practical experience with further study at a technical school.

The term of apprenticeship may be 2½ to four years depending on the trade and the apprentice's educational qualification.

Having chosen his trade, the intending apprentice must first apply to the Apprenticeship Commission at 200 Little Collins Street, Melbourne or telephoning 654 4800.

Scholarships

Many awards and scholarships are available to outstanding apprentices.

A number of scholarships for further technological study, some of them involving overseas travel, are available for apprentices who display exceptional ability and capacity.

A girl can become an apprentice in the following trades: painting, radio, hairdressing, cooking, pastycooking, furniture, dental mechanic and even some electrical and engineering trades.

The completion of an apprenticeship provides security of employment and possibly the prospect of self-employment.

There are about 135 individual trades in which a boy or girl may become an apprentice.

Guides plan big campfire night

The 1st Altona Guide Company has arranged a campfire for Friday night, October 22, when all guides and scouts of the district will join the company for a song by firelight.

Two girls of the guide company have been elected patrol leaders, and were presented with their second badge at patrol meetings last week.

They were Susan Dern, of Rosella Patrol and Kerry Watson, of Wattle Patrol.

New members welcomed into the company last week were Christine Bonser and Julie McAllister.

Badges passed by members of the 2nd Altona Brownie Pack:

Brownie footpath: Christine Wilson, Claire Taylor, Alison Taylor, Mairie O'Connor, Sharon Smith. Brownie roadways: Sandra Neale, Robyn Campbell, Kathleen Johnston, Linda Vogan. Hostess badge: Lisbeth Rawson, Sandra Neale, Linda Vogan. Thrift badge: Angela Nette, Kerry

Dumbo the star of films

Dumbo, the flying elephant, will feature in one of the films to be screened at a family film night at Altona West Primary School on October 22.

Cartoons and shorts will also be shown. Tickets bought will raise funds for the school library.

The school will be holding a spelling contest later this month, when children will be asking for sponsors to back their spelling ability.

Testing will take place on Thursday, October 7, with funds raised also going towards the library.

Detailed work plans are now in the process of being drawn up for the library.

So far 63 children have enrolled for 1972, and parents have been asked by the school to enrol children before September 30.

History tour — by car

The Altona Historical Society will set off on a car tour through the district on Sunday, September 26.

Members will leave from The Homestead in Queen Street at 2 p.m. on Sunday, and will include visits to the first block of land sold by auction in the area, some of the first houses, the old Williamstown racecourse site, the site of the Cut Paw Paw Sanatorium and the remains of the three coal mines in Altona.

The tour will take about two hours, and people needing transport to The Homestead should contact Mrs. Judy Clark on 398 2090.

From the bookshelf

Miss Paltridge and staff of the Altona Library have reviewed four more books for our monthly 'From the Bookshelf' feature.

WILD DOG RUNNING.

A. SCHOLEFIELD

To escape the poverty of England in the early 19th century, the Southgate family are forced to migrate to a new settlement in South Africa, a land they believe to be flowing with milk and honey. However, life is a constant struggle, and many calamities befall the family until John at seventeen decides to go into the lucrative but dangerous trade of ivory hunting as a last resort to maintain his family.

This is a fast-moving adventure story that reaches an exciting climax.

THE AGE OF DEATH.

W. Marshall

In this novel, William Marshall has written a searing denunciation of war. The work opens with an account of trench warfare at Passchendaele. The John at seventeen vividly captures the terrifying bombardments, death and horrible conditions men were forced to endure. Then the story moves on to Spain where Anthony — the son of Gilfalian, a First World War soldier — is betrayed and killed. Anthony's friend Felix survives Spain only to face the hopelessness of Auschwitz.

This is an account of unrelieved horror and destruction: a very powerful work.

THE MARRIAGE OF A YOUNG STOCKBROKER.

Charles Webb.

By the author of The Graduate, this novel shows us a married couple in their attempt to understand and maintain their marriage.

BOOKS DO FURNISH A ROOM.

Anthony Powell.

This is the tenth of Powell's novels which form part of the total work called The Music Of Time. It is a satirical novel about the post-war period in London. As well as Nicholas Jenkins, we meet a host of new characters and are given an insight into the literary world trying to resurrect itself during a bleak period.

Governor guest of YMCA

The State Governor, Sir Rohan Delacombe, has accepted an invitation to attend a dinner celebrating the centenary year of Melbourne and Metropolitan YMCA. The Governor is patron of the association.

The YMCA is hoping to contact many of the old members who participated in activities over the years, and would welcome inquiries from anyone regarding attendance at the dinner which will take place at the Royale Ballroom, Exhibition Buildings, on Monday, November 8, 1971.

The event highlights the achievement of the association as the only agency to have continuously served the young people of Melbourne over a period of 100 years.

Val's Column

Hello Girls,

Nothing does more for our morale, Girls than a change in hair style and there is no time like the spring for something different and exciting. Before you invest in a new style, you could put a little pampering into your hair, to put back the gleam that has dulled in winter months.

Split ends must be treated or trimmed. Well-acure or Kirone is your need here, are you using the correct shampoo? Revlon's aquamarine for normal, oily, dry or tinted/bleached a highly concentrated shampoo with protein to feed your hair. Steiners oily or dry or herbal shampoo. Cyclax medicated shampoo for oily hair.

Dry lifeless hair needs conditioning with Flex; a little Sebyson rubbed into dry hair daily. Aquamarine Creme Rinse or Steiner Creme Rinse poured through at wash time to make for easier combing and control.

Remember healthy hair is beautiful hair. Keep an eye on your diet; your hair is the first outward sign of your body's health.

Now that most of us are thinking of dieting — consider your skin type at the same time. You've no doubt looked up charts and have the week's meals planned out.

If you have an oily skin, give thought to plenty of sun. Don't eat greasy, rich or starchy foods. Eat plenty of oranges, apples and green vegetables. Eat plain salads of lettuce & cucumber with a dressing of lemon juice. Eat honey, lean meats. Don't eat salty things—and avoid salt as much as possible.

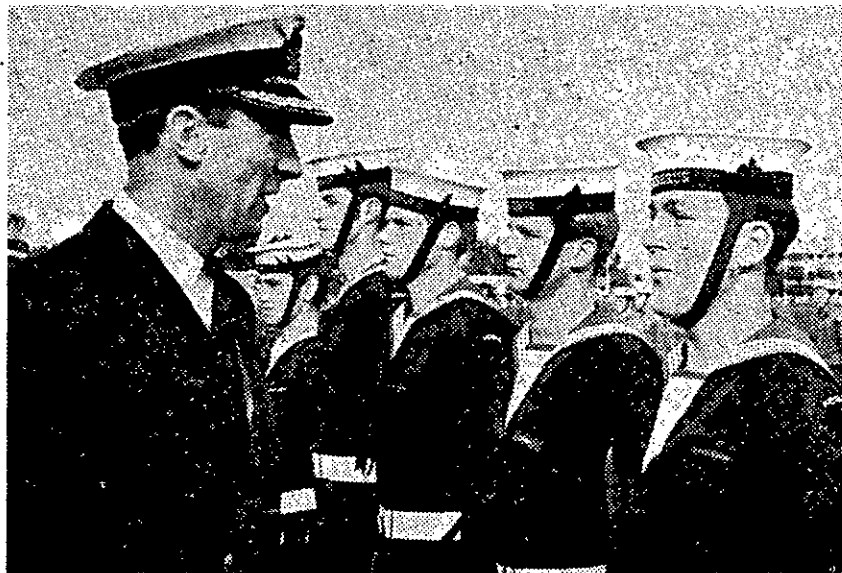

Yours a Dry Skin? You need vitamins A, B, C, and D. Eat raw vegetables and tomatoes and a lot of young vegetables. Eat oranges, lemons, mandarins, lots of fresh milk butter and eggs; fish, beef and veal. Wheat germ on your breakfast food.

Problem Skin? Say goodbye to bread, potato, rice and spaghetti. No highly seasoned foods for you just now. Plenty of meat, vegetables and fruit. Get ample sleep. This blemished skin won't be for ever, but will be improved by proper care Girls. Help the teenagers through this trying time.

Revlon, Cyclax, Coty and Dorothy Grey can assist with chosen cleansers and astringents — medicated — to keep the skin as clean and free as possible of pimples and acne type blemishes. You can help too.

Bye.

WAR MEMORIAL EXPLANATION

In a letter to the Editor Mr. Mick Johnston, local war memorial custodian, explains "Why that Fountain was moved".

He states:—

SIR,

As custodian of the local war memorial and a member of the Altona RSL, I feel it my duty to explain the reasons for the removal of the drinking fountain to Cresser Reserve (Star, September 15).

It all started just after World War II, when the late Mr. George Irwin was president, the late Mr. Jack Paproth was secretary, and I was senior vice-president of the Altona RSL.

The council of the day and the RSL executive and committee met, and decided to do away with the fountain as a war memorial.

The council built a new memorial, which was placed at the corner of Pier and Queen streets.

All went well until vandals began pulling up shrubs and plants in the area.

The RSL was approached by the council with the suggestion of moving the memorial to Civic Parade and incorporating an eternal flame. This was successfully carried out.

I would now like to explain why the fountain was removed from the pier area.

The police, council and RSL were inundated with complaints from parents of teenage girls, who were physically assaulted while at the fountain.

Regarding the position of the fountain, which I have inspected at the reserve, I would suggest to the council that it be used as a warning beacon to aid fishermen in foggy weather.

Yours etc.,

Mick Johnston, McBain Street, Altona.

Contract success

Werribee contractors, Preston Brothers, have been awarded a contract by the Board of Works for sewerage works at Laverton North.

The project is described as Laverton North branch sewer, and serves the new hotel-motel being erected near the drive-in theatre.

The contract is valued at $18,795. Cost is being borne by Gust Investments.

Their house has no connected water, and they have to carry it from a nearby public water supply.

"NOW NO-ONE NEED STARVE" — Dr. MEAD

"The world is facing a very strange crisis — on the one side people are dying from eating too much food, on the other, millions are dying from not getting enough."

World famous anthropologist Margaret Mead, said this in a message to the Australian people supporting the Freedom from Hunger Campaign's 1971 appeal.

The Campaign is holding a national doorknock on Sunday, September 26. Dr. Mead said the situation was not new. There had always been well fed people and starving people.

"The difference today is that we know about it," she said.

"We see it on TV and in our magazines, the bloated bellies and the frenzied faces of starving children in India and Africa.

"We now know what is going on, but even more serious is the fact that we know that we can do something about it."

BEGGARS

"In the Middle Ages food production was so poor that it was only possible for well-to-do individuals to feed a few beggars at the gates.

"A few devoted lovers of mankind would go into monasteries saying: they would not eat well while others starved.

"They kept alive the Christian ideal of feeding one's neighbors."

Dr. Mead said that today the situation was vastly different.

"We now have the technology, the economic capacity to see that no-one goes hungry.

"But — when something is a real possibility and is not carried out, we are then faced with a different order a different kind of sin if you wish, or a different kind of unbearable crime against humanity.

"When we could not help and could only pray, prayers were in order.

"When we can help prevent starvation, there is no excuse."

Dr. Mead said this was the reason so many young people felt so strongly on the subject, and why they felt their elders had failed.

"But they do not realise that this capacity to feed the world is new.

"The new experiments with grains the miracle wheat and the miracle rice are, new, our methods of shipment are new.

"Our realising unless we share our economic successes with the emerging nations, the world will have to live half poor, half rich, this is also new.

"But the ethic that all men are brothers, and where they can must be their brothers' keepers is not new," Dr. Mead added.

ASSOCIATION of APEX CLUBS

FOUNDATION

Through the efforts of the three recognised founders of Apex—Ewen Laird, Langham Proud, and John Buchan—a meeting of young men was held at Geelong, Australia, on November 19, 1930, at which it was decided to form a club for young men.

On March 10, 1931, a Constitution was approved and the name of "Apex"—representing the height of ambition—was officially adopted.

Expansion of Apex activities beyond Geelong was first visualised in May, 1931, and Ballarat Club formed almost immediately. The early development and expansion of Apex owed much to the assistance of Rotary with whom Apex has always had a close association.

Formation of new clubs continued until by 1939 there were 36 clubs in existence. Today, there are almost 16,000 Apexians in over 600 clubs in Australia and overseas.

(This is the first of a series sponsored by this newspaper to assist Apex in the community).

Kiss Me Kate a pro. show

Black and white but no grey

Humor in Black and White will be the theme of a Professional Writing Seminar to be held in the Microbiology Theatre at Melbourne University on October 8 and 9.

The Seminar will be opened by Australia's first Minister for the Arts, Mr. Peter Howson.

It has been organised by a joint committee of the Australian Writers in Victoria and the Australian Society of Authors.

This year's seminar is the second to be organised by the joint committee and is the first event of its kind in Australia to gain industrial patronage.

Patrons are Shell, Ford, Repco, BHP and C. and U.B.

Kiss Me Kate, the updated musical based on Shakespeare's Taming of the Shrew will be showing for four nights at Williamstown next month.

The Williamstown Light Opera Company, which is staging the play, has professional actors and dancers taking the leading roles.

They are Joan Hutton-Davies, Boony Truex, Paul Trentini and Caroline Lindner.

The show will be on October 20, 21, 22, and 23 at Williamstown Technical School hall, Kororoit Creek Road at 8 each night.

Tickets may be obtained by ringing Doris Lalor on 397 8012 or from Joy Goodland at the Three In One Shop, Douglas Parade, Williamstown.

Rehearsing their roles for the musical Kiss Me Kate are professional dancers Paul Trentini and Caroline Lindner.

The Altona Little Athletics Centre, in conjunction with the Victorian Little Athletics Association and the Royal Children's Hospital, will take part in a relayathon next month.

The relayathon will commence at 6 a.m. on November 20 and continue until 12 noon.

The purpose of the relay will be to raise money for a New Intensive Care Ward for the Children's Hospital and money which will go towards equipment for the Little Athletics Centre in Altona.

The centre hopes to raise money either by direct donation or by providing an incentive for the children by sponsoring them for so much each kilometre.

The Little Athletics Association is hoping a record of more than 130 kilometres will be run this year.

Any further information may be obtained from Mrs. G. Knell, 2 Myrtle Grove, Altona, phone 398 1336.

Pigeons were war heroes

A little known fact is that Australia had her own pigeon corps in action during World War II, Mr. Doult said last week.

Many of them won the geon has held man's Dickens Medal, the animal esteem practically from the beginning of civilisation.

Mr. Doult, who is secretary of the Rosamond Homing Club, West Footscray, said pigeon racing in Australia has been a popular sport since the turn of the century.

There are clubs in Footscray, Yarraville, Maidstone, West Footscray, Sunshine, St. Albans, Williamstown, Altona, Laverton and Werribee.

"Pigeon racing cannot be classified as a cruel sport," Mr. Doult said.

"It's natural for birds to fly and members are adept in training a bird to fly long distances."

Races extend over distances from 60 to 600 miles.

Pigeon racing retains its sporting status — there are no T.A.B. agencies or aucous voiced book-makers.

The pleasure gained by the pigeon fancier, comes from learning the peculiarities of each bird.

Pigeons are intelligent, loyal and each has its individual personality.

Mr. Doult said the pi-

● Mr. William Doult, secretary of the Rosamund club has been a member for over 40 years.

"It would seem that boys have not altered much over thousands of years," he said.

"Archeologists digging in ancient Egypt unearthed a letter (written on papyrus) from a schoolboy in Alexandria to his parents at home.

AGE OLD HOBBY

"At the bottom was what would be a p.s. in modern language — 'please send me some money and don't forget to feed my pigeons!'"

"There are frequent references in the Bible to doves, but the Biblical dove was actually the ancestor of the modern day pigeon.

"The pigeon of those days was somewhat larger and slower in speed than today's bird and was known as the Eastern Carrier.

"To gain greater speed, the Carrier was crossed with another breed known as Blue Rock to improve the species.

"During later years they were used to carry news and became a part of a country's defence pattern used extensively whenever a seige occurred."

Pigeon keeping is a family sport and children too can play a part in the care, preparation and training of birds for shows and races.

Training starts five weeks before each race and it's an exciting time.

As more than 800 club members race over 7000 birds each week, the competition is pretty keen.

However, each racer has the same chance.

To participate in a homing club, you need six pairs of birds for a start.

After the initial purchase, most members breed their own birds if they want more of them.

● The club holds monthly meetings and those who would like to join could contact Mr. Doult on 317 9455.

Tennis season opens in Altona

Junior soccer

Altona East is still holding top position on the Altona Primary Schools' Soccer League ladder following the weekend games.

The game of the day was St. Mary's versus Altona West.

St. Mary's who were second bottom on the ladder, defeated third place holders Altona West 7-1.

St. Mary's played well as a team, and West just couldn't get the ball past the defenders. Altona East easily defeated Altona North 7-0, although the game was an exciting one. Seaholme went on to an early lead against Brooklyn West in a very even game. In the second half West equalled before Seaholme put the pressure on and sealed the game in the dying minutes with a good goal. Scores: Seaholme d. Brooklyn West 2-1.

Brooklyn defeated Altona 8-0. Brooklyn hung on to a one goal lead against the wind in the first half, but after half-time the ball never left the Altona section, and Brooklyn just couldn't go wrong.

Ladder: Altona East 18, Seaholme 14, Brooklyn 10, Altona West 10, Brooklyn West 10, St. Mary's 6, Altona North 4, Altona 0.

The Western Suburbs Tennis Association will begin its 1971-72 summer season on Saturday.

Like father like son?

New Victorian Amateur Golf Champion, Mike Cahill, comes from a very sports-conscious family.

His father Frank Cahill, was a forward with Footscray VFL, back in the early 40s.

Together with Footscray he made the VFL finals in one year but finished up being carried off the ground.

In 1945, Mr. Cahill played football for Yarraville before "going bush" for a year or two.

When Frank Cahill returned he played with Carlton firsts and was in the team in '48 when they made the finals.

Mr. Cahill quite modestly said he was never an exceptional player but "just made up the numbers."

He was once a keen golfer at Koorringal and his handicap was a very respectable 4.

Now he describes himself as a weekend golfer and leaves the glory to young Mike.

Michael's mother has also just begun to learn to play golf.

Mr. Cahill said that his wife, Betty, had eventually decided to take this step in order to learn what people were talking about when she visited the golf club.

Mike Cahill, incidentally, did play football for a short time but allowed his participation to lapse when his golf improved in leaps and bounds.

He was playing in an under-19 side at the age of 16.

But unlike his cousin, Bulldog Laurie Sandilands, and his father, Frank, Mike decided golf was definitely his forte and so far, he's been developing into an exceptional player.

Brendan Thompson is top squash player

Brendan Thompson emerged as Werribee Squash Club's A Grade champion following the championships on Sunday.

He defeated Sam Pante in straight games to win the Graeme Gardner trophy.

Championships were open to all members and were conducted in A, B, C and D Grades and women's.

No. 1 seed, Craig Irving, was defeated in his first match by Sam Pante over five games.

Julian Menegazzo, who had won the Geelong Closed Championships earlier in the year, had similar success in the B grade when he won the Aub Comben trophy.

He defeated Lou Martini over five hard-fought games.

Mick Goldie won the Cyril Bear trophy for C grade when he defeated Pat Hilder in four games.

In what must have been the closest and most fiercely contested final seen at the centre, Mike Freeman defeated a determined Graeme Gardner to win the Tino Ballan trophy for D grade.

It was an even contest that held spectators' interest to the very end where they saw Mike Freeman win the last game of the match 10-9.

CRICKET CLUB TO START

Werribee Cricket Club will hold its formation meeting on Friday night at the Mason-Farrelly pavilion.

All players and supporters are urged to attend.

Practice has been under way for two weeks and attendances have been good, although more players are still needed.

Two teams have been entered in the Victorian Cricket Association turf wicket competition and one in the Bacchus one in the Macchus Marsh.

Prospective players are asked to contact either B. Comben, J. Murphy or R. Larkin.

Helen Hearnshaw showed her superiority in the women's grade when she took all before to win the Hugh Moore trophy.

Playing sound squash Helen was untroubled in all her matches which she won by clear margins.

Club president, John Corby, pronounced the championships a great success.

"The standard of play and the keenness of the players was a credit to the club," he said.

"In particular," he added, "I would like to thank those people who contributed trophies."

"Without their support the championships would not have been the success they undoubtedly were."

PIGEONS

O'NEILL MAKES IT AT LAST

After a long run of plights this year, K. O'Neill, Saturday, took first position.

This race was flown from Mildura (300 miles) with flyers having to clock two birds. (The total velocity of the two birds then decided the winner of the race).

Because of a strong following wind the winning birds covered the 300 miles at just on 60 mph, flying in the air about five hours.

RESULTS: 1. K. O'Neill (birds) 3360 ypm total velocity; 2. A. & H. Coker (birds), 3164 ypm total velocity; 3. Molloy Bros 77 ypm total velocity; 4. Davies.

Next week the birds will again fly from Mildura in the Produce Race.

Flyers are racing for a trophy donated by Mr. Rex Southee manager of the Commonwealth Bank.

Max Blakiston wins trophy

Altona Hockey Club's Max Blakiston was awarded the club's top trophy at a recent presentation night.

The night took the form of a dinner dance and guests included the president of the Victorian Hockey Association, Mr. Harry Nedeerven and Mrs. Nedeerven, president of the Victorian Junior Association, Mr. Ron Ford and Mrs. Ford, the deputy mayor Cr. H. Weaver and Mrs. Weaver.

Club president, Mr. Eric Symons, welcomed the visitors and congratulated the E grade team on a fine win in the grand final which was played the previous week.

Mr. Nedeerven and Cr. Weaver presented the following trophies:

H. and L. Weaver Perpetual Trophy: Best player A grade, Max Blakiston, runner up A grade, Brian Smith, best player C grade, Richard Luckoszek, runner up C grade, Peter Byrne, best player D grade, Phillip Aitken, runner up D grade, David Cottrell, best player E grade, Eric McCauley, runner up E grade, Steve Curran.

The Tony Docker perpetual trophy was presented by Cr. Weaver to Brian Smith on his excellent clubmanship throughout the season.

The Altona Hockey Club stirrer spoon was presented to Mr. Kevin Bugden for his many comments voiced during the year.

Associates pennant teams

With the opening of the Metropolitan Pennant Series on Tuesday, 28th September, we once again face the big query.

Can the Werribee ladies bring home a pennant, or better still, two pennants?

Those poor harassed members generally known amongst other things as "selectors," have been very busy and have formulated the initial selection of teams.

These will, of course, be subject to confirmation or to the first pennant match and any alterations will be posted on the notice board at the club.

All that remains now is each and every one to consider her position in the teams, realise the importance of that position and above all give of her very best whilst playing with a complete co-operative effort for the benefit of the club and not as one of two individuals.

The initial team selections are as follows:

No. 1 side: E. Marquand, Ridgway, May Robinson, J. O'Shannassy (S); E. J. A. Comben, L. Wakefield (S); I.

Torney, A. Munyard, Molly Robinson, B. Clark (S); S. Baxter, A. Hopper, F. Matlock, M. Myers (S).

No. 2 side: A. Gange, J. Graham, N. Garfield, T. Hansford (S); J. Danaher, I. Whitford, K. Shaw, V. Griffiths (S).

No. 1 side will play away at Dousta Galla, whilst the No. 2 side will be at home to Footscray RSL.

There are quite a number of reserves and we still have some members absent overseas or on holidays and these will be considered for selection as soon as possible.

The team managers will now require some assistance in arranging suitable transport and it would be appreciated if members will contact them as soon as possible with offers of help in this matter.

We have noticed a number of the members putting in some spare time practice and the attendance at other club events has been good.

This augurs well for success in the pennant matches so good luck, girls, and let us chalk up a good run of winning results.
